Forecast for Sunday 13 Nov 2022

Weather: Rather cloudy with some valley fog at first and perhaps some patchy light rain or drizzle. This low cloud should develop some breaks with time, the best chance to the north of Pen y Fan. Cloud readily re-forming and thickening later in the day to hamper late descents.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 20% improving 70% before deteriorating again later in the afternoon.

Low cloud and visibility: Very poor within cloud, with bases quite extensive from 500m early and late, but otherwise improving to good through the middle of the day.
